They are ultimately contributing to improve productivity and product quality, Increase international competitiveness and help the country to develop the sustainable farming system. The impressive ongoing growth in Livestock Philippines reflects the robust growth of animal protein industries, not only in Philippines, but also ASEAN region. For Aquaculture Philippines 2017, it is first time to launch in Philippines with the support of government sectors, private industry player. The international conference that was taken place during Aquaculture Philippines 2017 has demonstrated that Philippines Aquaculture will be another growing sector in Agro Industry.

Based on projected consumption increases from Food policy research institute, the Philippines is one of the fastest growing meat consuming nations in the world. Compound annual growth to 2021 was predicted to be over 30 percent for pork, chicken and beef. The top 10 countries by forecast growth in beef pork and chicken consumption from 2011 to 2021 include the Philippines. Moreover according to London-based industry intelligence provider ReportBuyer, the outlook for the Philippine's livestock sector is expected to show healthy growth rates.

The Philippine Association of Meat Processors Inc (PAMPI) noted the number of slaughter houses and accredited facilities has increased up to 10 percent per annum, driven by a growing population. Over the past five years, Filipino's per capita consumption of meat has increased to 15 kg for pork, which according to the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD), is over two kg more than world's average pork consumption. During the same period, per capita consumption has increased from 10 to 14 kgs for chicken and two kgs for beef.

With livestock's sterling performance, and event showcasing the best that the industry has to offer is perfectly fitting. As such Livestock Philippines has become the premier event that bring together the finest in Philippines livestock, animal, health and feed sectors to create best business opportunities for major stakeholders from over the world.
